INTRODUCTION

The Vedic mantras, manifested during the Samadhi state of sages, were segregated into four Vedas, viz., Rigveda, Yajurveda, Samaveda and Atharvveda, at the end of Dwapara yuga. As the capabilities of people of Kaliyuga were found to be at a highly diminished level, these four Vedas were further subdivided into 1131 branches. The details of the branches are recorded in several holy books, like Bhagavata Purana (12th Skandha) written by Sage Veda Vyasa about 5,000 years ago, Mahabhashya by Sage Patanjali about 2300 years back, and commentary of Shri Vishnu Sahasra nama stotra by Shri Adi Sankaracharya, about 1200 years back.

During the past 1000 years of foreign aggressions and alien rule, more than 99% of the above literature is lost, and only 13 branches are claimed to be available as on date. Out of these 13 claimed, actually 7 branches are being studied. It was informed that the textual parts of these branches are not available at one source. Also they are studied with limited modes of chantings, and without exploration of scientific aspects. Thus three problems are identified with regard to the Vedas, viz., with regard to the text part, with regard to different modes of chantings, and with regard to scientific aspects.

Presentation of Sabdaveda by Dr. K.I. Varaprasada Reddy garu to Shri Chaganti Koteswara Rao garu, Kakinada, Aug. 2017
Shri Veda Bharathi under the guidance of Dr. RVSS Avadhanul, a Nuclear Scientist, Computer professional and Vedic scholar, made attempts over the past three decades in his own way for solving the above problems.

EFFORTS FOR PRESERVATION OF “TEXT OF VEDAS”

In 1992, Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) organized an all India Vedic Conference, with Dr. Shankar Dayal Sharma, the then Vice President of India, as the Chief Guest. On the request of TTD, Dr. Avadhanulu developed the first prototype computerized Vedic database, with display of few mantras from Rudra Adhyaya along with their meanings in Devanagari script on the computer screen, using “C” language and “DOS” operating system. Highly pleased with the demonstration, Dr. Sharma advised Dr. Avadhanulu to develop Indexing systems for Vedas, using computer technology.

Dr. Avadhanulu completed the above task of preparing indexing systems for Taittiriya sakha of Krishna Yajurveda, and successfully demonstrated the “multilingual multimedia Vedic database” to the then President of India Dr. Shankar Dayal Sharma, in 1995. At that time Dr. Avadhanulu submitted a proposal to the President for bringing out a grand single book, with the texts of all the available Vedic branches. After receiving a copy of the proposal with the recommendation of the President, the then Chief minister of Rajasthan, Shri Bhairon Singh Shekavat conducted series of meetings with Shri Karpoor Chandra Kulish, Chairman of Patrika publication, Jaipur and the officials of Shri Veda Bharathi, in the last week of April, 1995, and initiated action.
“SABDA VEDA” PUBLICATION

In this background, 11 Veda Samhitas were compiled and brought into a single volume titled “Sabda Veda” under the guidance of Shri Kulish, editor of Patrika Publication and Shri Kailash Chaturvedi, former Director of Sanskrit Education, Rajasthan. This book is first of its kind in the world, with a majestic look, size and weight.

TITLES OF VEDIC BRANCHES PRESERVED

The names of Vedic branches preserved are as follows:

- Rigveda: Saakala Branch
- Yajurveda: Shukla Yajurveda- Madhyandina & Kanva
  Krisna Yajurveda-Taittiriya, Kathaka, Maitrayaniya,
  Kapisthala;
- Samaveda: Kauthuma, Jaiminiya
- Atharvaveda: Shaunakiya & Paippalada

ADVANTAGES OF PRESERVATION OF VEDAS

It may be noted that these residual 11 branches constitute our most precious and prestigious heritage. The mantras embedded in these available branches abundantly reflect the glory of ancient India on various aspects of Cosmology, Philosophy, Sciences, Humanities etc. They also provide to the mankind the much needed “Harmonious way of living with the nature”. For this reason, the Vedas are praised in esteem.
Ratha Yatras of Sabdaveda By Shri Veda Bharathi (SVB)

With a view to create awareness among the public about the availability and contents of Sabdaveda, Shri Veda Bharathi started, in 2016, Rathayatras and Vedic seminars on a large scale in various cities and States. In that process, SVB organized such programmes in different zones of of Hyderabad, like BHEL, Vanasthalipuram, Dharmapuri, Miyapur, Himayanagar etc., and also in cities/towns like Vijayawada, Visakhapatnam and Srisailam, in addition to all the villages of entire Andhra Pradesh. There is a thrilling response from all cross sections of the society for the efforts of Shri Veda Bharathi.
